

E-Verify Case Number: XXXXXXXXXXXXXXXX

Why you received this email

Your employer participates in E-Verify, a program managed by the U.S. Department of Homeland Security (DHS) and the Social Security Administration (SSA). E-Verify compares the information you gave on Form I-9, Employment Eligibility Verification, with records available to DHS and SSA to verify that you are authorized to work in the United States.

You received this email because E-Verify provided a DHS and/or SSA Tentative Nonconfirmation case result. A Tentative Nonconfirmation case result or “mismatch” means that the information entered into E-Verify by your employer does not match records available to DHS and SSA. A mismatch does not necessarily mean that you gave incorrect information to your employer or that you are not authorized to work in the United States. Visit www.e-verify.gov/employees to learn more about your rights and responsibilities during the employment verification process.

What you should do

Contact your employer, if they have not notified you of the mismatch result and provided you a copy of the Further Action Notice.

You must decide whether to take action to resolve the mismatch as soon as possible within 10 federal government working days after E-Verify issued the TNC by, {MM/DD/YYYY}. Employers may not take adverse action against you while you are contesting the mismatch and your E-Verify case is pending.

If you decide not to take action or do not give your decision to your employer by the end of the 10th federal government working day after E-Verify issued the TNC by, {MM/DD/YYYY} the case will be closed with a Final Nonconfirmation case result. Your employer may terminate your employment.
