A case can receive a Final Nonconfirmation result when E-Verify cannot confirm your employee's employment eligibility after they:

- Visited a Social Security Administration (SSA) field office and/or contacted Department of Homeland Security (DHS) during the Tentative Nonconfirmation (TNC) referral process;
- Failed to visit SSA and/or call DHS within eight federal government working days after the employee contested the TNC and the employer referred the case to SSA and/or DHS; or
- Did not give you their decision whether to take action to resolve the case by the end of the 10th business day after E-Verify issued the TNC result.

To complete the E-Verify process, you must close every case you created.
